

Q.C.M. quality control management AG and 2assistU GmbH launch a partnership in the field of education

The two Swiss aviation training organisations, Q.C.M quality control management AG and 2assistU GmbH, enter cooperation and will be offering education, as well as advanced training in the area of Aviation Security and Emergency Response.

Starting in 2018 in Belp, Q.C.M. and 2assistU GmbH will cooperate and offer training within the fields of Aviation Security and Emergency Response. The courses will be taking place as of April 2018 and are available for booking from now on.

Markus Enck, CEO of Q.C.M quality control management AG states, " We are looking forward to expanding our wide training capabilities in the important fields of security and emergency response with the expertise of 2assistU."

"We are proud to cooperate with such a well-established company as Q.C.M, and are looking forward to this collaboration", says Reto Gasser, Managing Partner of 2assistU.

About Q.C.M. quality control management AG

Since 1999, Q.C.M offers training, consulting services and technical aircraft management. The company, based in Belp, has customers from all over the world. Among the customers are aircraft maintenance organizations, continuing airworthiness companies, design organisations, aircraft operations and aircraft owners, as well as aviation authorities.

About 2assistU GmbH

2assistU GmbH was founded in 2011 and its core competencies consist of Emergency Response, Aviation Security AVSEC Training, Dangerous Goods Training, Training of Regulated Agents as well as Security and Quality Management Systems. Moreover, the company acts as independent validator for Known Consignors.

Media contact:

Q.C.M. quality control management AG
Cindy Auf der Maur
Tel. +41 31 960 40 60
info@qcm.ch

2assistU GmbH
Thomas Frischknecht
Tel. +41 44 586 46 50
thomas.frischknecht@2assistu.ch