

Media Release, 14th September 2017

Q.C.M. quality control management AG and SR Technics Switzerland AG launch a partnership in the field of education.

The two Swiss aviation training organisations, Q.C.M. quality control management AG and SR Technics Switzerland AG, entered into a cooperation and thus increased their both educational portfolio for Aircraft Type Trainings. For both partners, it is an important concern to provide high qualified training for the aviation industry. The combined portfolio will be available as of January 2018.

About SR Technics Switzerland AG

SR Technics is a world leading MRO service provider as well as a well-recognised train center for the civil aviation sector. The company offers to their customers comprehensive and fully customized solutions for aircraft type training and technical support and management of their aircraft fleets, engines and components.

About Q.C.M. quality control management AG

Since 1999, Q.C.M offers training, consulting services, technical aircraft management and design certification activities. The company, based in Belp, has customers from all over the world. Among the customers are aircraft maintenance organisations, continuing airworthiness management organisations, design organisations, aircraft operations and aircraft owners, as well as aviation authorities.

Media contact

Q.C.M. quality control management AG
Cindy Auf der Maur
aufdermaur@qcm.ch
+41 31 960 40 60

SR Technics Switzerland AG
Stephan Wiegelmann
stephan.wiegelmann@srtechnics.com
+41 58 688 50 68